Put the light on, The darkness is scaring me,
Darkness is scaring me, Scaring me,
And all the truth you read,
Is seeping through your reflection,
But did you ever think, Did you ever think,
That marriage is same, Darkness is scaring me,
Scaring me,
Would you believe this name without a face, Face.

I'll find my own way home, Own way home,
I'll find my own way home...

Everything, Everything, Everything falls, Until they do, Stand by while I break on through the wall,
And how does it feel to leave this place alone,
With nothing, nothing at all?

Put your light on, The truth has been tampered,
Darkness is scaring me, Scaring me,
Seeping through your reflection,
And on the other side, you side up all your pride and shame,
And who's worser off? This face without a name, name...

I'll find my own way home, I will,
Find my own way home...

Everything, Everything, Everything falls, Until they do, Stand by while I break on through the wall.
And how does it feel to leave this place alone,
With nothing, nothing at all... ?

How can you break the ice when it keeps melting away... ?

Everything, Everything, Everything falls, Until they do, Stand by while I break on through the wall.

And how does it feel to leave this place alone,
With nothing, nothing at all, all, all, all, all, all, all?
Everything, Everything, Everything falls,
Until they do, Stand by while I break through the wall.

away... ?
