I'm out in the wilderness, just on my own
Search my mind to find out, what direction I should go
I like the emptiness, feeling that I'm alone
Free to do everything that I'm thinking of
I see the clouds, I feel the rain is falling down It's soon getting dark, and I'm waiting for the night, to come
I'm a loner, and I like it this way
Just me and the stars and the fire
What more do I need, I've got nothing to say
While the moon is coming higher and higher
I see the sun go up, watching all day through Wondering, what are the other people do Work all day, getting payed, but what do they got Waisting time and money, are they happy or not?
Alone but I ain't lonely, as the sun is going down
It's soon getting dark, and I'm waiting for the night, to
come
I'm a loner, and I like it this way
Just me and the stars and the fire
What more do I need, I've got nothing to say
While the moon is coming higher and higher
