you were left all by yourself you were young what could you do? the only girl you ever loved, stood up, abandoned you and i'm pushing i'm shoving you i wouldn't like to think that i was forcing you am i forcing you?

by pushing you?
and shoving you?

if you say "nothing left to lose" then you have not lost your voice and if you've got the guts to choose i will still give you the choice you can fight or you can fall

one last chance to prove it all and i just hope you don't fuck it up cause it's not to late to try if you believe in anything pull the wool down from your eyes stop procrastinating

one last chance to prove it all
and i just hope you don't throw it away when you called i was asleep i'm aware of any other impropriety so act like you're on your own son cause one day you will be and whe you kick and when you scream you will notice that i'm not listening at all

stop procrastinating

one last chance to prove it all

and when this test is over my arms begin to ache it's too important you can't be seen to break
and when this test is over i'll be your friend again so just don't blow it and do something stupid when when all i wanted was not to have to hold your hand and all i wanted

was not to have to hold your hand

i don't care, i don't care
