

Reuben

"we're all going home in an ambulance"

Visit "we're all going home in an ambulance" on MotoLyrics.com

A school the choices i made were rock and roll bands and getting good grades, but brains and wearing all black,
to some of those guys,
its like a red flag,
the taste of anyone's fist is not a good vibe, or somthing ive missed.
i was intimidated, assaulted and for what?
i hope thay choke.
shrugged off the shit in my youth like growing up pains and loseing a tooth, but its not a matter of age.
there everywhere,
these people dont change.
when i was in new york, a woman tried to start a fight with me becasue she thaught i was jewish, and somehow it felt wrong to to tell her that i wasent i hope she chokes, i once saw a man with blood on his face from beating up black kids,
and i could hardley breathe your race, your faith, or just your clothes incite thay drink and thay fight... its not safe out tonight
your race, your faith, or just your clothes incite
thay drink, and thay fight so dont go out tonight, dont! if your mum and dad hit you as a child i feel sad for you, but thats no excuse for it who said its ok to behave in this way, i cant help but feel its us... for the sake of our own skin we walk away and its like we all say "thats alright" "its alright" "its alright"
i wish i had the guts to stand up for yourself, and for outhers aswell, against these fuckers

Visit Reuben page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.
