"I Know The Ocean Speaks"

My dear ocean how are you today?
I sense a vibrant wave within today,
Come hit me with your strength.
Today I am waves, today I am yours.
Mislead me into the wrong path,
Frustration has never felt so right.
The wind speaks a language of it's own,
This must be destiny.
But now I can't feel the ocean floor
Under my feet and now the current is too strong
To swim back to the shore.
This is a mistake, I don't belong here.
I do regret coming here.
I'm sorry for everything I did and said,
But now there's no return,
I can feel death at my lips (fingertips).
