What evil thing, the girl in blue.
What hellish pain she put me through.

My stomach's all tied up in knots
She's so pretty, she's so hot
Her pouting lips brought forth the seed
Of the evil deed.

With curves that kill, and eyes that sting.
The angels cry, and demons sing.

Oriental, satin blue, Mary Jane, stiletto shoe
How naive it was of me
How wicked girls can be

What evil thing, the girl in blue
The girl in blue
The girl in blue
The girl in blue

What evil thing, the girl in blue
The girl in blue
The girl in blue

The girl in blue
The girl in blue
The girl in blue
What an evil thing
What an evil thing
What an evil thing
The girl in blue
The girl in blue
