"Deception"

Visit "Deception" on MotoLyrics.com

You have fallen to the lies of man
Ever sinking to the depths descend
When the life you built so high
Comes crashing down
Will you accept the truth and breathe again

You will never find the answer in this fallen world
If you reject the truth that's right before your eyes

You wanted out, tried all you knew
But it always led you deeper through
This world you're captured in, you wonder why
You never find the answers in your heart

You will never find the answer in this fallen world
If you reject the truth that's right before your eyes
This deception you embrace will draw your final breath
Will you risk it all to save yourself from this
