Was it anything to you
Or are the words that I have said another wasted breath
Did it mean a thing to you
Or was the sacrifice I made just not enough

How can you say that I did this all for me and not for you
Whoa, this is my confession
So when you say that I did this all for me then you will know
Whoa, this is your last hope

Was it ever more to you
Or was this just another way for you to live your life
Did you ever take a chance
To let me fill this emptiness you tried to hide

And I will wait for you
And I will pray for you
For your name I cry
