"Never The End"

Visit "Never The End" on MotoLyrics.com

Did you think this was the end
And that everyone deserted you
Did you think this was the plan
For you to feel the way, for you to see the things you do

All I ever wanted was to know you
All you ever needed was a friend

Did you know how much I love you Did you know that you mean everything; you're everything to me
Did you know that I've been waiting
I'm still waiting for you my son
I'm ready for you to come home

Did you think this was the end
When you ran away and took your reasons with you
Did you think you found your way, your way of escape
When you lost yourself to the pain you wrote

All I ever wanted was to save you
All you ever needed was my grace

Did you know that I took these scars for you
So you wouldn't have to
