Biding our time, towing the line always
Flow with the rhythm, be part of the system, they say
Handing out numbers then throwing our names away
Losers and winners, the saints and the sinners all say
That's life
That's life
That's life
That's life
That's life
That's life
That's life
That's life

Hiding inside, keeping an ear to the wall
Ignoring what matters for things that don't matter at all
Craving control, searching for something to say
Find an illusion, preserve the confusion always
That's life
That's life
That's life
That's life
That's life
That's life
That's life
That's life
