I bet I called your house at least a hundred times
And I couldn't speak when you came on the line
I'm sorry if I bothered you but you were on my mind
And I called to say I love you one more time.

I had to talk to you before the night was through
And a friendly call I thought you would not mind
I know your not alone but don't hang up the phone
I called to say I love you one more time.

--- Instrumental ---

Sometimes love don't care who's house is callin'
And maybe this call is out of line
I guess that you could blame this conversation on the wine
But I called to say I love you one more time.

I had to talk to you before the night was through
And a friendly call I thought you would not mind
I know your not alone but don't hang up the phone
I called to say I love you one more time.

I called to say I love you one more time...
