You're the first thing that I think of in the morning
You're the last thing that I think of every night
And even when I am sick you're always in my dreams
You're the last thing I think of every night.

When I close my eye I still see your face
And when I hold out my hand I feel your touch
To see your smile, just to hear your voice
It makes my weary heart disappear.

You're the first thing that I think of in the morning
You're the last thing that I think of every night
And even when I am sick you're always in my dreams
You're the last thing I think of every night.

I often wonder what your feelin' now
I know I need attention to get in touch
But pride gets in the way so I bottle up my love
In hope that someday you'll change your mind.

You're the first thing that I think of in the morning
You're the last thing that I think of every night
And even when I am sick you're always in my dreams
You're the last thing I think of every night.

Yes, you're the first thing that I think of in the morning
You're the last thing that I think of every night
And even when I am sick you're always in my dreams
You're the last thing I think of every night.

You're the last thing I think of every night.
Yes, you're the last thing I think of every night...
