Yeah that old bike tyre's still on the lampost bend
And those shoes are on the telephone wire yeah
Our names are still carved in a heart on the backyard fence

Not so long now you'll be home
It's alright nothing's changed since you've been gone
True love never dies I'm holding on

Mrs.P sends her best
Next door but one had a girl
Another life to bring some hope and joy into the world
So don't get down
Be strong I'm holding on
And Nana says she knows how I feel Comes around most nights are those stories real?
She told about the time you used to climb on the window sill

And how are things with you my love?
Though there's many miles between us
I'm there for you

Not so long now you'll be home
It's alright nothing's changed since you've been gone
True love never dies I'm holding on

Oh and little May ain't so little no more She's outside right now hand in hand with number 4's boy
Just like how we used to do
I can't wait but I'm holding on
