I can't stay now and just wait how, my hands they go so impatient many things I've got to do now for the first ray of the morning.
Though she dreams in peaceful slumber, sleep to me just doesn't come when she wake I'll try to tell her everything I'll have to say.

And the night so dark inside me makes me finally understand with the love that she has given, she can light the sky forever.
It's the way she give a freely, it's the way she takes my hands, I'll just ask the sun shining brightly got to see her smile again.
Then I'll sing the song I've writen and I'll make the whole world listen in the silence just for you, like no one has ever heard.

And I'll wake up all the lovers and I'll keep them there for hours and we'll do the things we wanted the way that lovers do.
And we'll run into the street and we'll start to dance like crazy cos she want only to feel joy in the love she gives and needs.
And we'll take it as some colors And we'll paint the street and building, rainbow color everyone those she wants, colors to sing, and we'll paint full fill with flowers, make the street alive with spring, make a place where lovers go, fly away like lovers do.

Then we'll fly into the sky and we'll chosen with two stars and our stars return the whole world, the love we have, we are, the love we share is sweet the love we know is real, that love is not to dream but last a lifetime long Because your love and mine is given without dreaming all we need, and the love that we have given return to us to win

'cause your love for me is not begining and the end your love and mine is now for me, forever, you love for me forever...
