See you open the door
Going out there for more
See you kicking the lines
Beyond what's yours or mine
See you moving unseen
Underneath and in between
Somewhere in my mind
Something you left behind
So if ever I cross your mind
Crossing your mind
Light years away from now
As I'm crossing your mind
It might be you're on my mind
So please, please... don't mind
See you closing your eyes
Somehow choosing a side
Somewhat farther away
A little more everyday
In this with everyone
On this side of the sun
Of course it's alright
Standing here in this light
Somehow keeping the beat
On my side of the street
Teasing me from above
Someone's calling it love
So if ever I cross your mind
Crossing your mind
Light years away from now
As I'm crossing your mind
It might be you're on my mind
So please, please, please don't mind
