Look out liars and you highlife scum who gotta keep your victims poor and dumb-- Your motives and your methods are not disguised by your silk, soap, sex, or your smiling lies. Look out here you pompous jerk Look out here I go berserk Well I guess you put me in my place but I won't forget your stupid face They gave you power cuz they knew your needs-- soprano boys get talent when you shoot your seeds. Well you laugh to hear what your best friends say-- Old man they laugh when you walk away. Look out chief ridiculous creep Look out thief you'll lose your teeth Well you got power, now there's competition and your blind side's turned to the boys with a mission. You were sixty-five when you wiggled out-- your mind all twisted and your mom all shout. I'm a man with his share of excess nice but it can't be spared for drooling lice. Look out jerk you ancient slut I can't endure Your smirking smut Well life is short so don't even try to bother waving as we pass you by.
