(Lloyd)

I stood out alone and shaken.
All the love it had been taken.
Cast adrift on a stormy sea.
Been cut up bad.
But, I'm too blind to bleed.
I'm pleading, baby, take away the pain.
Pleading, baby take away the pain.
In the night your love's a beacon.
That's the light I've been seeking.
So darling don't forsake it.
Take this heart and smash or break it.
I'm pleading, baby take away the pain.
A dozen roses that is all.
I've seen them come up now and watched them fall.
Like scattered pieces of a dream
Of broken hearts lost in a foggy steam.
Pleading, baby take away the pain.
Pleading, baby take away the pain.
In the night your love's a beacon.
That's the light I've been seeking.
So darling don't forsake it.
Take this heart and smash or break it.
I'm pleading, baby take away the pain.
Pleading, baby take away the pain.
In the night your love's a beacon.
That's the light I've been seeking.
So darling don't forsake it.
Take this heart and smash or break it.
I'm pleading, baby take away the pain.
Pleading, baby take away the pain.
