(Lloyd)

She says, "i'm leaving now, i'm going back to the sea There's too much trouble on dry land, if you know what i mean

If you'd like you can follow me, and i will show you how
And i will give you kisses amongst the fishes, All the love the sea will allow"

Her eyes are green and just like the waves on the sea Underneath those waves, the water is still and running deep

I'd like to dive down under the waves, get away from the storm

I'd like to dive down, in my deep submarine

She took my hand, and started walking back to he shore

All the prophecies she made were coming true, the earth was headed for war

"if you like you can hold me tight, and then I promise you will feel no pain

And all the waves breaking up against us
They will feel like tender drops of rain"

Her eyes are green and just like the waves on the sea
Underneath those waves, the water is still and running

I'd like to dive down under the waves, get away from
the storm

I'd like to dive down, in my deep submarine

We're waving bye bye we'll see you all later now

We're waving bye bye to thw modern world

And all the fishes love the boys and girls

Her eyes are green etc...
