I can't believe that it's already been a weekend You still won't call me and baby we still ain't speaking it hurts my heart just to be a part and know that you ain't missing me at all I wear a smile when I see you to keep from crying I said I didn't really need you but now I'm trying to fill the void and find the road which leads me back to you

Cause everytime I fool myself to think that I am truly over you, girl i hear a song, or i see someone that reminds me of you

Chorus

So How can there be snow in june how can it be night no moon?
perfect skies without the blue
how can there be me without no you? just like trees depend on leaves girl i need your love to breathe missing you is all i do
how can there be me without no you?

Yeah

My days are empty and nights they are so lonely i try to be with another but she don't know me and it's a shame trying to play the game when I know she is not the one I need i'd spend a million whole dollars just to be with you revisit all those good times when love was brand new. you're the best i must confess let's make it like it was Cuz everytime i pull myself to think that i'm truly over

you
you

Chorus

how can there be light no moon?
girl i need your love to breathe
missing you is all i do
how can there be me without no you?

Bridge:

When the chips are down, and no one's around to erase the tears you cry, I want to be the one who's there to make it right. Whoa.
I'm standing in a crowded room but still I feel so cold and all alone.
Can we make amends and be back friends I need you don't you know
don't you know.....

Chorus to fade

(sing la dum da da dum da da dum da dum da da, la dum da da dum da da dum da dum da da, without the blue, whoa,
la dum da da dum da da dum da dum da da, la dum da da dum da da dum da da, da da, how can there be me without no you?)
