

Richard Marx

"Days In Avalon"

Visit "Days In Avalon" on MotoLyrics.com

I'm nearing the end or the beginning
Whichever one finds me
And I'm counting the tears and the blessings
That I'll leave behind me

I could not ask for more
You were the one thing worth livin' for

I will remember days in Avalon
I will remember nights in your arms
I will remember days in Avalon
And I will recall every moment
Of my days in the sun

As I embrace the twilight
The memories surround me
I would have been lost sure as the rain comes
If you hadn't found me

Each breath I breathe is for you
I never knew how to live 'til you taught me to

I will remember days in Avalon
I will remember nights in your arms
I will remember days in Avalon
And I will recall every moment
Of my days in the sun

I will run through the door, I'm not afraid anymore
And the light that I see is your eyes
Once again I'll be whole
I will live in your soul longer than the rest of our lives

I will remember days in Avalon
I will remember nights in your arms
I will remember days in Avalon
And I will recall every moment
Of my days in the sun

Visit Richard Marx page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

