Nowhere to hide, you can't escape the fun
No matter where you run, all that is gone with the times
And time will tell on you if you don't carry through You've got your soul on the line

Long as you know
Which side the sun rises on everyone
Wherever you go, you'll understand
Holding the light in the center of your hand

There's a whole world to save, there's a whole world to save
You can start any place
There's a whole world to save, whole world
Not any reason to wait

You're alone, you and everything with a face
Why'd they call it human race? All in a world of our own
I think it's gone far enough, I say we call their bluff
Somebodys got to be strong

If you get one wild night in life
Oh, you'd better get it right
If it's the only life you get
What is it worth if it's you and nothing left

There's a whole world to save, there's a whole world to
save
You can start any place
There's a whole world to save, whole world
Not any reason to wait

Making a difference, seeing what nobody sees
I wont wait for a deliverance 'cause I know its waiting for me

Long as you know
Which side the sun rises on everyone
Wherever you go, you'll understand
Holding the light in the center of your hand

There's a whole world to save, there's a whole world to

save
You can start any place
There's a whole world to save, whole world
Not any reason to wait
