Been a child in my life
A child in my dreams
It seemed forever
That I'd get ahold of myself in between

Nothin' for certain at least it seemed so anyway
And I was wondering what I would become or what may
Music was my life, finally took everything
Ain't it funny how you got it all and not a thing

(It's a gift I can sing)

(chorus)

I've got a reason for living each day
I've got a reason for makin' it pay
If it's only for a moment and only my way
I've got a reason, a time and a season

I was takin' it for granted
A little more than I should
I had it easy, ummm, was life ever doing me good
I had it all written, how the story would end
But I ran out of pages and
I was left all alone with the pen
The story's still got a line
And the song'll still rhyme
The names are the same
They're yours and they're mine

(I guess I knew it all the time)

(repeat chorus)
