

Richie Furay

"Look At The Sun"

Visit "Look At The Sun" on MotoLyrics.com

Look at the sun
Look at the way it comes down shining
Look at the sun
Look at the way it comes down shining

I'm just about to catch my breath
Been runnin' hard all night long
Just another hour up for me
Lord! By now you'd think I'd been home

Tossed to and fro
I tumbled like a domino
Then all at once I felt my senses come around
I laughed so hard I cried
I knew my old self had died
I listened close and finally heard a sweet sound
With my back to the wall I couldn't stand it at all
Though I knew it was easy enough just to fall--no-ooo
Torn inside what I wouldn't do
With all that I know and all that is true yes

Looks like the winds blowing again
And it looks like my ship's going sailin' again um-huh
So I'll set my sights upon the course and sing as long as I can or
'Til my throat gets hoarse

Wind on the water as cold as glass
Feeling emotions I thought had passed
Closing the distance between the line
All of the meaning it's been defined.

Visit Richie Furay page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.