I wish that you would listen
And maybe try to understand
There just ain't nothin' here to hurt you
You don't know me
Yet you say so like you do
Cause each time I that I write you
You make me out to be your fool
Baby, what's the matter please?

If I give you lovin'
From way down deep inside
You say I'm just pretending
But if I had something to hide
Would I stand up to have you
Laugh right in my face
I'm a simple man of love
Is that to my disgrace
Baby, what's the matter please?

Lonely nights
Thinkin' what should I do
Draw the line
I got feelings too--that's right
But I'll love you
And try to put your heart at ease
Baby, what's the matter please?

Precious moments are so few
Looking for the love
I thought I knew

My life seems like a hundred years a day
Waiting in this dream
Or in a nightmare should I say
Cause all I'm askin's
That we never give away
That little bit of something
That meant so much yesterday
Baby, what's the matter please?
