He was twenty, she was 17
Double street 1970
They were young they were taking their time
No hurry no pressure no wonder why?

39 years ago
They're still together today

These are the best of times
Don't change
Don't let a good thing slip away

I know we can't survive
The sane
Don't let a good thing slip away

Craves up sand in the hourglass
They move slow but they moving up so fast
I think about the things that we? had
Our time is tiking a wonderful slow romance
Why would I let you go
Don't you feel the same way?

These are the best of times
Don't change
Don't let a good thing slip away

I know we can't survive
This way
When I touch you girl it feels like yesterday

I know we might be tried or played
But you know I want you in every way

These are the best of times
Don't change
Don't let a good thing slip away
