It was an ordinary night at least it started out that way Two ordinary people sharing thoughts at the end of the day

Was it the wine that made her sparkle, made her shine?
I crossed that line, it was only meant to be

A one night stand, here I am with empty hands Wasn't looking for love and I knew from the start, it was a one night stand

She was only passing through and it suited me just fine Emotional attachment never crossed my mind

Was it the light that played a trick on my mind?
I crossed that line it was only meant to be

A one night stand, here I am with empty hands
Wasn't looking for love and I knew from the start, it was
a one night stand

A one night stand, here I am with empty hands
Wasn't looking for love and I knew from the start, it was
a one night stand

A one night stand, here I am with empty hands
Wasn't looking for love and I knew from the start, it was a one night stand
