When I was much younger
It used to happen every night
I had a dream about a city
Dressed in lights

And there were friends of mine
I saw them time after time
But I never knew their names
And darling I swear, I saw you there
I know it sounds insane

Sweet dreams of a child forgotten so easy
I needed your smile to bring it all back to me
I see all of my life as the road that brought me here
Must be, something went right, I just know when you're near

This must be heaven
Have I found it, what I've been looking for?
This must be heaven
Have I finally stumbled through the door?

How could I have doubted?
I guess I must have lost my place
You turned on the light and I saw my life
Reflected in your face

Sweet dreams of a time forgotten so easy, oh yeah
I needed your smile to bring it all back to me
I see all of my life as the road that brought me here
Must be something went right, I just know when you're near
Oh, yeah

This must be heaven
Have I found it, what I've been looking for?
This must be heaven
Have I finally stumbled through the door?
This must be heaven
And I always knew that there was something more

Heaven

Heaven

Come closer to me now
You fill me up, I'm overflowing
Come closer to me now
Come hold me tight and don't let go

This must be heaven
Have I found it, what I've been looking for?
This must be heaven
Have I finally stumbled through the door?

You fill me up now, girl
You fill me up, I'm overflowing

This must be heaven
Have I found it, what I've been living for?
This must be heaven
Have I finally stumbled through the door?

This must be heaven
Have I found it, what I've been looking for?
This must be heaven
And I always knew that there were something more?
