I was midnight walking and daytime talking

You can see the best in me, I know

I got distracted, you were broken hearted

But I still tried to follow where you'd go

And every time you wish me peace

Or take a joke with perfect ease

Or hear my doubts with sympathy

It's like London comes alive

We both know the river, gets stronger and longer

And crossing it's the hardest thing to plan

You took us together, sister and brother

And brought us safe ashore, where we now stand

Even if you'd one regret, it couldn't spoil the best thing yet

Some special days, our eyes have met

It's like when London comes alive

It's such a surprise

Any time you want, just say

Phone me up and I'll be there

What you need to hear, I'll say

Anything

Every time you wish me peace

Or take a joke with perfect ease

I know you're down on bended knee

To make everything all right

It's like when London comes alive, alive, alive
