Chorus:

A man needs a woman's touch
Just when he thinks he knows so much
A man needs a woman's touch
He may be free but it's not enough
It's not enough
In the evenings when he comes in
Back home from work, turns and leaves again
To go out looking for some company
Someone to talk to, some sympathy

Chorus

Once he thought he knew the way
To spare himself from any pain
He hid himself and had his fun
And he didn't think that he needed anyone, anyone
It's not enough
It's not enough
I was so sure long ago
Thought there was nothing that I didn't know
But I've seen the time passing by
Just like a dark cloud moving through the sky

Chorus
