Father, can you hear me?
I have nothing left to hide
Just so tired of choosing sides
I'm willing to speak out loud
And turn my purple heart inside out

Bare my soul
I wanna let these walls come down
Be exposed
I don't wanna be numb anymore
I just wanna feel real love
So I can bare my soul

I've prayed that good sinners stood behind the yellow line
I've held my breath too many times
But I know there's more to this
Beyond the neon lights of a shadowed kiss

Bare my soul
I wanna let these walls come down
Be exposed
I don't wanna be numb anymore, Oh
I just wanna feel real love
So I can bare my soul

Bare my soul (bare my soul)

I'd rather have love than be naked in the bitter wind
I've gotta be prepared to lose if I wanna win
And if I fall I just start again

Bare my soul
I wanna let these walls come down
Be exposed
I don't wanna be numb anymore
I just wanna feel real love
I just wanna feel real love
So I can bare my soul
So I can bare my soul
