In outer space there isn't a rule for love
Pick up the pace it's better to push than shove...

So take me so far from home.
So take me so far from home.

In outer space there isn't a rule for love
Pick up the pace it's better to push than shove.

Redder than wine, were bleeding into the sound.
My racing mind has found me a place for now...

So take me so far from home.
So take me so far from home.
So take me so far from home.
So take me so far from home.

Suspended up society shouts my name.
They cut me up, but some how I feel the same.
I see the signs, were bleeding into the sound.
And just in time, I found me a place for now...

So take me so far from home.
So take me so far from home.
So take me so far from home.
So take me so far from home.
