Punish you for what you've done
You better run for shelter
Wrathful thinking has begun
It's time for helter-skelter
Subliminal messages put into my brain
And crammed into my head
I catch a rush inflicting pain
Well after victim screams no more
A figment of my imagination
Becomes this tragic ordeal
I've done this to shock the nation

I'm heartless you know how I must feel
Carving away into this twisted figure
So savagely yet so quietly
I've drained the life from this wounded creature
Carressing her body so violently
Reassuring myself I gouged the baby
From sharon's bleeding womb
Poor sharon tate and unborn child
Forever to be entombed...
