Everywhere is still everything is restless in my heart i hate the way this feels suddenly i'm scared to be apart the days are dark when you're not around the air is getting hard to breathe i wish that you would just put me down i wish that i could go to sleep loving you is suicide

i don't know should go or should i stay i'm tryna to keep myself alive knowing there's a chance it's all too late but i heard you say you love me that's the part i can't forget and i wish that you come save me cos i'm standing over the edge i should let you go tell myself the things i need to hear but my brain is why you're wrong that's why i'm loving you when you're not here feels like i drown in your every word and every breath that's in between somehow you got me where it really hurts it's killing every part of me

i don't know should go or should i stay
i'm tryna to keep myself alive
boy cos i'm standing over the edge

and my world's about to break and i... had as much as i can take and love is a long way down

and it's getting harder everyday i'm tryna to keep myself alive
and i'm way past every moment but i'm still determined to fight and i know it's taking all my strength to give emotions alive
loving you is suicide
