Yesterday

I passed you by

I kept on walking

Cos I don't want you to see me cry

You looked so good and seem too feel so well

I turned around

I hesitated

I got so close to you

But yet so far away

All I wanted to do was to yell out your name

I can see that you're much better off without me

- without me

You deserve the best a girl can ever have

Everything I see reminds me of us

Every thought of you is glorious

All I want for you is happiness

Cassandra Cassandra

Guess I failed to end this fairytale

A big mistake I must confess

No happy ever afterness

Cassandra Cassandra

Cassandra Cassandra

I'm right outside your balcony

Standin' exactly where I shouted will you marry me

How the hell could this go so wrong

But now I see

A family

A little kid and a husband that look a bit like me

And I'm so happy for you girl

I can see that you're much better off without me
- without me babe

You deserve the best a girl can ever have

I find myself so often daydreaming 'bout us baby
What we could have been
I see us holding hands walking down the boulevards of crying violins

But the truth is not as wonderful
And I'll regret for life all that I blew

But I'm truly happy for you
