So long ago I barely can remember
My recollections fade to shades of gray
The restless ghost, she wanders through the shadows
And with the wind she vanishes away

But on a night like this her spirit rises with a kiss of autumn in the air
She's haunted by the hope to find a broken promise there

Oh maybe it was all a crazy dream
Some moment fell that never should have been Chapter from a story that ended all too soon Underneath the melancholy moon

Still the system mexico companion
She became my consolation pride
And though I know much can be forgiven
I can't escape the mistress of the tide
But on a night like this I just keep playing back that sound track in my Sould

And try to find the rhythm I lost so long ago!

Oh maybe it was all a crazy dream!
Braken off some broken melody
Once upon a time I knew that song, but now I can't recall the tune
Underneath this melancholy moon

Cry
Try to find a way to finnaly say goodbye
You know that moon will never offer a reason why

But on a night like this I just keep playing back that sound track in my Soul
And try to find the rythem I lost so long ago

Oh maybe it was all a crazy dream!

Braken off some broken melody
Once upon a time I knew her soul, but now I can't recall that tune
Underneath this melancholy moon
