"Star Jewel"

I made a secret wish upon a star today
It was lost behind it's friends who seemed so far away
Just as I believe there is hope for a trailing star
I believe that there is hope for me and you wherever you are!

I'm wondering
If you still remember me
I know that you are still in my memories
When no one looks,
I will vanish into foam
In the green rain
I know that I am alone

If I could live my life over
I'd want to meet you once again
The tears I cry would turn to emeralds
Then I'd begin to sing a song for you!

And I made a secret wish upon a star today
It was lost behind it's friends who seemed so far away
Just as I believe there is hope for a trailing star
you are!
