Will we ever learn what makes this world go round?
Now it's our concern, we still return to the same old ground
Nothing is new under the sun but things will get better

When we all are one we'll play a different game Harmony is fine but after a time, well the key must change
Open your eyes, don't lose your way, remember today

Ah, everyone wins
The light that's shining out from you will touch everything that you see
Ah, everyone wins
You reach into the silence, you will find it's the time to believe

Take care of yourself, there's no mystery Try to understand everything's planned, it's more than you or me
Magic may come, magic may go, it's not the end of the show

Ah, everyone wins
The light that's shining out from you will touch
everything that you see
Ah, everyone wins
You reach into the silence, you will find it's the time to

One day you will find the doubts you had are taken from your mind
Taken from your mind

Ah, everyone wins
The light that's shining out from you will touch
everything that you see
Ah, everyone wins
You reach into the silence, you will find it's the time to

Ah, everyone wins

Everyone wins
Everyone wins in the end
