Life goes on, no-one get's rehearsals
Life goes on, through every day reversals
With every dawn, every day is full of chances to find some good beore it's gone

You never know which way a day is gonna take you
There's always some surprise
That comes along to shake you
A simple rule of thumb
That's often been neglected is take life as it comes
Expect the unexpected
You'll never see exactly where the road will lead you
And when it comes to love, you gamble when you need to
You'll maybe break your heart
On one unlucky throw
But then again, you never know

Who knows why anything can happen
A cloudy sky can suddenly break open Before your eyes there's a smiling face of summer chasing all the rain away

You never know which way a day is gonna take you
There's always some surprise
That comes along to shake you
A simple rule of thumb that's often been neglected
Is take life as it comes
Expect the unexpected

You'll never see exactly where the road will lead you
And when it comes to love, you gamble when you need
to
You'll maybe break your heart
On one unlucky throw
But then again you never know

A simple rule of thumb that's often been neglected is take life as it comes
Expect the unexpected

I never saw exactly where the road would lead me

One day I woke to find somebody needs me
I thought I'd taken luck as far as it would go
But then again, you never know
