life goes on
no one gets rehearsal
life goes on through everyday reversal with every dawn everyday is full of chances to find some good before it's gone you'll never know which way a day is gonna take you there's always some surprise that comes along to shake you

a simple rule of thumb that's often been neglected is take life as it comes expecting unexpected you'll never see exactly where the road will lead you and when it comes to love you gamble when you need to you'll maybe break your heart on one unlucky throw but then again, you'll never know who knows why anything can happen a cloudy sky can suddenly break open before your eyes there's the smiling face of summer chasing all the rain away

shake you

you'll maybe break your heart on one unlucky throw

i never saw exactly where the road would lead me one day i woke to find somebody needs me i thought *i'd take at luck *as far as it would go but then again, you'll never know
