When our rivers run dry and our crops cease to grow
And when our summer grow longer and winters won't snow
From the banks of the ocean and the ice in the hills
To the fight in the desert where progress stands still When we've lost our will

That's how we'll know, this is not a test, oh no
This is cardiac arrest of a world too proud to admit our mistakes
We're crashing into the ground as we all fall from grace

When the air that we breathe becomes air that we choke
When the marsh fever spreads from the swamps to our homes
When your home on the range has been torn down and paved
The buffalo roam to a slaughterhouse grave What more will it take?

For us to know this is not a test, oh no
This is cardiac arrest of a world too proud to admit our
mistakes
Kissing the ground as we all fall from grace

This is a chance to set things straight To bend or break the rules back into place
There is no middle ground, no compromise
We've drawn the line

With perfect aim, we stand back and throw Glass windows break and it's all about to blow Lights go out as we pass the torch again
In hope that is stays lit, oh

Neutrality means that you don't really care 'Cause the struggle goes on even when you're not there Blind and unaware

That's how we'll know, this is not a test, oh no
This is cardiac arrest of a world too proud to admit our
mistakes
We're crashing into the ground as we all Yeah, we all, all fall from grace
