Do you spend your days
Counting the hours you're awake?
And when night covers the sky
You find yourself doing the same

As a burden, you've been buried
In spite of all your prayers
There's a light turned off inside your heart
Can you remember what it's like to care?

Knees are weak, hands are shaking, I can't breathe

So give me the drug, keep me alive
Give me what's left of my life don't let me go
Pull this plug, let me breathe
On my own I'm finally free, don't let me go

The trail of crumbs you left
Somehow got lost along the way
If you never meant to leave
Then you only had to stay

But the memories that haunt us
Are cherished just the same
As the ones that bring us closer to the sky

No matter how grave, yet I fall

Through these clouds, which is screaming

Give me the drug, keep me alive
Give me what's left of my life but let me go
Pull this plug, let me breathe
On my own I'm finally free, don't let me go

This grip loosens but it never breaks
(Never breaks)
We carry nothing but a name you will forsake

Your words are always there to break my fall
(Break my fall)
And then I find the comfort to see through it all

Guide me through un-chartered waters
Before we lose our way again
Will you be my compass
Until forever, until forever ends?

Knees are weak, hands are shaking, I can't breathe

So give me the drug, keep me alive
Give me what's left of my life, don't let me go
Pull this plug, let me breathe
On my own I'm finally free, don't let me go
Don't let me go, don't let me go
