Dejected I walked through this eternal row now I know the answer how to climb to the top limited by my insecurities I couldn't take control consumed in silence my ego checked me so when I was on the edge I always show doubt

Chorus: Yesterday I was trembling behind an opened door
Today I leap at the chances one by one I grab them one by one

Negation is not gonna be a part of me anymore disaffiliating from what delays me to get the correct role

CHORUS

Believe me
it's time to break the stone that doesn't let you react
