what have I to offer you nothing more than all of me and what have I to offer you just my everything eternally a gift of all that I possess our vows to bring you happiness when you're in need, a place to rest your head and all my love, all my love

I have loved you from afar
if this world were my own,
I could promise you a star but all my love, all my love that's all I have to give at the heart that will adore you for as long as time exist here I am and so are you this, for me, is a dream come true so hold me close and keep me warm let me feel the flame inside of you to give you a love that you can feel just so you would know that this is real I don't have much, but what I have is yours

and all my love, all my love
if this world were my own,
all my love, all my love I'll be there to dry each tear I'll hold on to this love for 100 million years
what else is there to say?
I'll be there to ease your burden at the end of every day

I waited for so long and I hope you'll find the message that is deep within my song
you came and handle me we'll make these precious moments sugar, come make memories
