Too fast to get hurt
But if I did I can make tracks

Today I woke up 3000 miles away
Nostalgia kicked me in the face
And we talked it out in my head
But I still wish that you were dead

Dreams too big for you to slow me down
Too much between us for you to stop me now
Dreams too big for you to slow me down
Too much between us for you to stop me now

And if I get burned
Tomorrow I'll be a day away
Put some distance between you and me
Cutting myself off can solve anything

Today nostalgia kicked me in the face
I can't do much 3000 miles away
But talk it out in my head
And wonder what I should do instead

Dreams too big for you to slow me down
Too much between us for you to stop me now
Dreams too big for you to slow me down
Too much between us for you to stop me now
