

Rivulets And Violets "Each Day"

Visit "Each Day" on MotoLyrics.com

Where is the peace I used to know
A quiet feeling that all is well
I knew where to reach, to reach for your hand
Without you my world is my hell

Each day's the same as the one before
Escaping down stairwells collaged with the world
Each step seems to make the pain worse
Each passing sin I lose hold of you

I long to be home where your love lifts me up
I'm tired
Give me strength to carry on

Looking for love makes my heart want
You say seek and ye shall find
Will love be found if I open the door
How can I make this love mine
