"Hello Sorrow"

Hello sorrow my faithful friend

It seems my time with you is slow to end

Could you return another day

I know it's time again to wait

The gifts you bear are bittersweet

The jewels in my crown thrown at His feet

To enter this journey with you by my side

Till I reach, till he answers my cry

Lord, the promise you make, when I give my all to you

Completes this circle, makes my spirit new

To wait as the fire consumes my faith

I will wait
