"Mend"

I woke each morning with the sun bright in my eyes today I slept but the sun
Never shone never woke me by it's light

Healing comes with time with letting go of the past Fear it holds me here reaching for the sweeter pain of healing

Mend this broken heart that I may know your grace
Make my soul to trust that I may know your love

I was pierced deep within
But I am always with you
You hold my hand
You receive me to your glory
You are all that I desire
