CHORUS:

Beware of what- lies behind these eyes
-you may never return again

Be cautious how deep that you look inside
-you won't like the beast you find within

Beware of the shade and also the color
-cuz that's where the truth is

Be weary of the eyes stare and the luster
-cuz you lose yourself in it

VERSE 1:

My blood red eyes- battle wit paralysis in my rhymes

Work hard- sleep deprived

Blood vessels crack like glass & windpipes- to counteract details in all my writes

Read pages like mages to become outrageous

To leave efforts from my adversaries outdated

Moon is my sun, midnight in my noon- so later in the AM overlap wax wit doom bars got a sickle build- still will like kill bill- distribute an ill-will

Only to those whom

Throw their dead weight on my shoulders

Which you have to keep in mind adds 30lbs on my bones

As I spit wit the realist- illest- instrumentalist- known only as the skull- play my soul through The synth

So you get the message and the 20/20 essence of exactly the presence

That is written in the darkest
CHORUS:

Beware of what- lies behind these eyes
-you may never return again

Be cautious how deep that you look inside
-you won't like the beast you find within

Beware of the shade and also the color

Be weary of the eyes stare and the luster
-cuz you lose yourself in it

VERSE 2:

Overcome by nightmares- adulthood scares

Of dying in my sleep before the 21st year

1st mistake- took they pain- made it my own

Sittin' on a throne- crown caste iron- rose thorns

Prince of pain- king of love & terror

Feared & revered till death brings us together

Like alpha & omega- the creator & destroyer- bringing Sodom & Gomorrah to it's Closure- it's over

Just to get a vex wit a hex- the corvette- leave distress just to rest- 360 horsepower

That'll give me more speed just to flee from everybody- before the milk goes sour got a devious contour times feelin' like a reincarnation of someone incarcerated

Who still vindicated- he sins at will to make it

But sobs in the shadows what the pain has created
CHORUS:

Beware of what- lies behind these eyes
-you may never return again

Be cautious how deep that you look inside
-you won't like the beast you find within

Beware of the shade and also the color

Be weary of the eyes stare and the luster
-cuz you lose yourself in it

VERSE 3:

The red line cross my eye signifies the tide

That I have to the covenant I made for my allies work till the day dies night skies rise awakens the monster lies behind my eyes

Make bars that's stupendous- lengths are tremendous

Relentless- supremacy kinds of confessions mistakes past destined- way before death's door-

That I've seen through my dreams many times before

Uh!

CHORUS:

Beware of what- lies behind these eyes
-you may never return again

Be cautious how deep that you look inside
-you won't like the beast you find within

Beware of the shade and also the color

Be weary of the eyes stare and the luster
-cuz you lose yourself in it
