I remember days back when it was just you and me
Laughing on a porch swing,
Climbing trees
But time has moved on
And life has moved so...

Let's just take one minute
To smile and have a good time
One glance at you
From when you were mine
One thought about
How things could have been
One prayer that you
Might come back again
I know that it's a long shot baby,
But i think it's worth taking...

Oh I think it's worth taking...

Must be that time of year again
It's getting warm
And it's been a year since
Our love first formed
Oh, and I know we both say
But something between us still remains

Let's just take one minute
To smile and have a good time
One glance at you
From when you were mine
One thought about
How things could have been
One prayer that you
Might come back again
I know that it's a long shot baby,
But i think it's worth taking...
(x2)

I know that it's a long shot baby,
But i think it's worth taking...(8x)
