

Robben Ford

"Won The Battle"

Visit "Won The Battle" on MotoLyrics.com

The fighting's over, this time I won

I yelled the loudest, had the biggest gun

She packed up all her bags and walked right out the door

Looks like I won the battle but lost the war

She was speechless once I made her cry

But she had the last word if you count good bye

Now I've got cold silence across the killin' floor

Looks like I won the battle but lost the war

Whose fault is it?

When we can't get along

Let's get back together, darling

Who cares who's been right or wrong?

I'm ready to surrender but she won't talk no more

Looks like I won the battle but lost the war

Will she ever forgive me? Sure is hard to tell

If she'll have a change of heart to save me from this hell

I'm ready to surrender but she won't talk no more

Looks like I won the battle but lost the war

Looks like I won the battle but lost the war

